

Press Release

Polarion Software delivers Requirements Management & Application Lifecycle Management solutions to the French market.

Paris, France and Stuttgart, Germany — September 19, 2011

Polarion Software (www.polarion.com) expands its market to now include an office in Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines, close to Paris, France. This new local office allows Polarion to work closer with our customers and partners while locally supporting our customer's solutions throughout France.

Polarion Software is a leader in Application Lifecycle Management (ALM) and Requirements Management (RM) and a powerful force in the software marketplace. Polarion has had a very strong increase in sales throughout 2010 and 2011, and for this reason we are excited about now expanding our activities in the French market.

"This is a major step forward for Polarion Software. As a global company we are investing in being close to our customers as much as possible. In this strategy, France has a first class seat." says Polarion VP Strategy and Business Development, Stefano Rizzo.

About Polarion Software

Polarion Software is a global leader in the field of Requirements Management (RM) and comprehensive Application Lifecycle Software (ALM) software solutions and services. Polarion's success is best described by the hundreds of Fortune 1000 customers and over 1,000,000 users who rely daily on Polarion's ALM, Requirements, and Track & Wiki software products. Polarion provides companies with a single unified Web 2.0 enterprise business application with disruptive low prices, and sourced via multiple channels for ease of purchase, installation, and customer support; And by this helps companies to replace expensive 80's and 90's legacy disparate tools.
